TWO CENTS

THE BOROUGH HAS TWO SHOOTING AFFAIRS LAST NIGHT

RATHER UNIQUE ARE CASES OF ACCUSED

John Berenik, 19, And T.W. Kelly, 632 Lincoln Avenue, Being Held—Berenik Has Gun in Garden Inn—Discharge Accidental Claim

A NUMBER OF WITNESSES

Chief of Police James A. Murphy And Officer Ross Arrested Kelly, Who They Claim Fired a Shotgun Twice At An Unknown Man

Charleroi was surprised with shooting affairs last night, more or less sensational, maybe, in their tendency; this is to be developed in the hearings held possibly tonight. The principals were John Berenik, 19, who lives in the rear of 941 McKean avenue; and the other is T. W. Kelly, 35 years of age. In the case of John Berenik, the facts are meager, and we only have his story, while Mr. Kelly said that he has no recollection of the charge against him. The two men are being held in the borough lockup.

In the shooting affair in which Berenik is said to have been involved, there are witnesses, who will tell what they know when the hearing takes place. The shooting occurred at the Garden Inn restaurant at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and those present were Conrad Oates, a waiter, Coffee Dooley, James Austin, Ralph Dillon, Charlie Jones, Edward Dash, and William McCracken. Berenik was arrested after the shooting at his home by Officers Gelder and Corey.

One report is to the effect that Berenik fired a shot at Conrad Oates; what the trial will bring forth, cannot at this writing be stated; but according to the story of Berenik the youth went into the Garden Inn to get a cup of coffee. On his person he had a revolver, and as he attempted to remove it from his waistcoat to his pants pocket the weapon exploded, the bullet crashing into the floor. He claims that he did not know it was loaded, but the reason that he had the gun on his person is due to the fact that about two weeks ago a revolver was stolen from the offices of the taxi company, and he was carrying the gun for safe keeping. He said that he and the Oates boys are good friends, and that he has had, and had no trouble with, Conrad Oates; that he did not create a disturbance in the restaurant. That

TO FORM CHAPTER DEMOLAY ORDER

This evening there will be instituted in Charleroi the Order of Demolay. The Chapter to be instituted here will have a charter membership of 150 boys, at least 35 of whom live here.

Promptly at 6:45 the charter members of the Monongahela Valley Chapter, order Demolay, escorted by Knights Templar to the number of two hundred and fifty swords, in full uniform, will parade over the streets of Charleroi from Masonic Temple to Crest Avenue High School building, where the institution will take place, the work being done by a Demolay degree team from one of the large Pittsburgh Chapters. Two brass bands will form a feature of the parade. All Sir Knights in this vicinity are expected to be in attendance.

TO PAVE ROAD WITH CONCRETE

The hill road leading from Speers towards Twilight borough will be paved with concrete 18 feet wide, it was decided upon at the regular monthly meeting of Speers council last night. As soon as the engineer and borough solicitor obtain the necessary ordinances to be acted upon by the council, work will be started. The road will be improved up to the line of the property of the M. E. church and the school house.

The improvement of this road will be a great asset to autoists that travel that road daily. At the present time it is in bad condition, and is also dangerous as the road borders on a steep ascent. At the last November election a $12,000 bond was issued for this road.

The shooting of the revolver was purely a accident.

T. W. Kelly, who was arrested by Chief of Police James A. Murphy, and while in this condition shot at some man, unknown, with a shotgun, firing the weapon twice. Fortunately, the intended victim was not injured. Kelly was arrested at Seventh street at 8:15 o'clock, and he will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul R. Nutt, but whether the man of whom he is accused of using as a target will appear against him, remains to be seen.

West Penn Company Announces A Decrease In Its Lighting Rates

The West Penn Power Company, effect carried two charges, the first through G. M. Gadsby, vice president, today issued a statement concerning the decrease in rates for domestic and the balance at 5.55 cents per lighting service as rendered by the company in this community. The statement follows:

"In line with its progressive policy, the West Penn Power Company has secured the approval of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania covering a decrease in its domestic lighting rates in the form of a modification of its Schedule 'C' to include a third block of energy for which 3.33 cents gross per kilowatt-hour will be charged.

"This Company has been active for several years in stimulating the sale of heating appliances and lighting devices to its customers with the result that the average use of electric meter readers taken on or about current in residence has increased materially, thus permitting decreased schedules for this class of service. In order that the residence consumers may make greater use of them, labor-saving devices sold not only by this company, but by the various contractors and electrical dealers in the community, it was decided to install a lower step in the residence lighting rates.

JOIN THE CHAMBER.

This week will determine through the drive being made for new members just what proportion of interest exists among the eligibles of the borough in the Chamber of Commerce. The old question, "What Has the Chamber of Commerce Ever Done?" is frequently heard, and those seeking acquisitions to the body this week will doubtless be again confronted with the same query. Briefly and succinctly we can "summarize a few things:"

The work of the Chamber is extremely broad, frequently deep, and "never finished." Its work is simply the sum total of the labors of its individual members. It has no magic powers, no legal standing to compel action, and it is not run by any "clique" or political ring, church, or other group. All respectable men who wish to pay their debt of making a living in Charleroi, are welcome to its membership. It is conducted on sound business principles, with the definite purpose of improving living, civic, commercial, industrial, and business conditions. It needs and warrants the support of every citizen.

It is the easiest thing in the world to become disappointed with or about a Chamber of Commerce—any Chamber of Commerce. Such an institution is expected to accomplish all that is possible for the community. It is furthermore expected to carry out the programs of each individual without coming into conflict with the views of any other individual, even though these individuals be in violent disagreement. A swiftly attained conclusion about any Chamber of Commerce is that it leaves a number of things undone.

Yet each organization does perform great service of concrete benefit to the city, borough, or town it serves. If focuses and consolidates business effort; it avoids grave blunders, it maintains the machinery and the personnel necessary to supply almost instantly the help that any citizen may need but which through his own resources he could obtain only through long effort and appreciable expense. And properly supported the intelligently conducted Chamber of Commerce grows steadily in usefulness. What Charleroi is today has come largely through the well-directed efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of the borough. It needs your help and co-operation in the great work which it has mapped out for the future well-being of the borough and community. Join the Chamber.

LADY HERE IS WORKING IN BEHALF OF PRISON LEAGUE

Charleroi, representing the Prison Reform League for this state, is in Charleroi for a few days working with a permit issued from the office of Burgess J. Bryant Tussing in behalf of the League.

The Volunteer Prison League is one of the largest in the world having over 100,000 members. Funds solicited by Captain Barnard in Charleroi will positively take care of this section of Pennsylvania in prison work, which is under the direction of Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth, known as "The Little Mother." The converts embrace every nationality. Business places only will be visited by Captain Barnard, and it is hoped she will receive the cooperation of Charleroi's business men.

Captain Barnard is working very hard to have the report from here still better than any of the surrounding towns, and cities. She is pleased with the results so far.

THE MOTHER'S DAY BANQUET

One of the most successful affairs held in Christ Lutheran church this year was that staged last evening in Sunday school room of the church by the Jane Allen society when they entertained with their annual Mother's Day banquet. The banquet, which was served at 7 o'clock, was interspersed by a most enjoyable program.

Miss Helen Hill, the first on the program, entertained with a most impressive reading, "Somebody's Mother." Miss Hill was followed by Miss Sarah Mack, who favored with a creditable piano solo. A vocal duet, that was much enjoyed was rendered by Miss Margaret Hayes, soprano, and Miss Eva Coulter, alto. Short talks were given by the guests of the evening: Dr. C. B. King, Mrs. King, D. F. Worthington, Mrs. Worthington, and Miss Eliza Gillingham.

The large contingent were seated around a long, pretty adorned table, flowers being the prevailing decoration. Every member of the society was present with her mother and at the conclusion of the program each mother was presented with a pink carnation.

A jolly social hour followed the serving of the delicious dinner and program and at a late hour the assembly adjourned voting the affair a huge success.

Residents of Nine Properties Are Desirous of Having the Lines of the Tri-Cities Water Company

REVENUE NOT SUFFICIENT

Water Company States That It Would Cost $4,000 to Extend Its Lines, and Income Would Not Be Sufficient to Warrant the Expense Entailed

John N. O'Neil, secretary of the Charleroi Board of Health, appeared before the borough council in its regular monthly session last night in three propositions, i. e., condition of the streets and sidewalks, the inlets and intakes of sewers conditions, and the matter of the necessity of a garbage furnace or incinerator.

Mr. O'Neil stated that while he approved of many of the things that council is doing—has done for the weal of the borough, he was of the opinion that the three propositions as he submitted them were deserving of their individual and collective attention. He thought that remedial agencies should be applied in the matter of more and better sidewalks; and that streets should be repaired where needed. That the board of health is confronted with numerous complaints on the part of residents, account of the fact that some people throw dead dogs and cats in the sewers; and in the proposition of the garbage incinerator, the state board of health will not always have patience, but some day it will build for the borough a garbage plant, with 20 per cent added to its cost.

President Hugh E. Fergus thanked Mr. O'Neil for his remarks, acknowledged their timeliness and efficiency, but said at the present time that council has not the funds to do anything relative to the garbage incinerator. However, in the other matters spoken of, the body is doing the best it can.

Burgess J. Bryant Tussing made his first appearance before council as the borough's leading functionary. In his report, as read by the borough secretary, he reported fined collected for the month of April in the sum of $116. Mr. Tussing further made recommendation in the proposition of the regulation of traffic, council granting the request made by him that two extra policemen, from 6 to 11, reinforce the present contingent

Charleroi Delights Fans Here By Holding The Consumers Team Even

Charleroi delighted and surprised the fans here by holding the crack Harmarville team to a 5-5 score in a twilight game at Harmarville last night.

When two ace pitchers hook up, some one usually loses. But last night proved the exception as Abe Martin and Harry Beatty pitched 10 innings to a deadlock at Harmarville, where the Consumers and the Charleroi clubs opened the twilight season with a great ball game which left the teams deadlocked 5-5 at the end of 10 innings when darkness intervened.

Martin had the edge for eight innings and was stingy with his hits, but a batting rally in the ninth put the Charleroi team on even terms.

With a nice warm evening to help along both hurlers, who rank with the best in this section, ran true to form and it was a pretty ball game to watch. Martin was going along nicely until the ninth when he bumped into a surprise in Beatty himself, who stepped up to the plate with runners on the sacks, got a toe hold on one of Martin's benders and lifted it for three sacks, sending home two runs, tying up the game.

The Consumers started out in an auspicious manner in the third when Murray doubled and sent Rowe and Martin scurrying across the plate with the first runs of the game. Charleroi tied it up in the fourth and then the Consumers came through with one run each in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Things looked rosy for another Consumer victory when the dope bucket received an upset in the ninth when the Charleroi team came through.

With the Consumers leading by three runs, Walter Waite, the Home-wood lad, made his third safe hit, single. Stephanian grounded a hard one to Doherty, who booted the chance. Smith singled, scoring Waite and with both Stephanian and Smith on the sacks, Beatty soaked one for three bases, sending the tying run ty 4, by Martin 9. Umpire—B. Snyder across the plate. Martin tightened.

Kremer's Great Pitching Subdues The Cubs - Gives But Two Hits

Ray Kremer's great pitching proved too much for the Cubs at Forbes Field yesterday afternoon, he holding them to two hits and applying a coat of whitewash. Kremer upheld his reputation of being the "Pacific Coast sensation," applied to him when Pittsburgh purchased his release.

Cuyler appeared in the field instead of Captain Carey, and acquitted himself with credit.

Minnesingers.

The name Minnesingers is given to certain lyric poets of Germany that flourished during the Twelfth and Thirteenth centuries. They were generally men of noble birth, and sang of love, friendship, religion, war and adventure at the courts of kings and feudal barons. Although akin to the troubadours of Provence, the Minnesingers treated love in a more refined spirit and manifested a greater reverence for woman. They wrote principally in the Swabian dialect of middle high German. The most famous of their number were Walther von der Vogelweide and Wolfram von Eschenbach. The hohenzollerns, the dukes of Austria and Hermann of Thuringia were the chief patrons of the Minnesingers.

Charleroi Opens Season With Homestead Team

Flushed with their achievement of holding the Harmarville Consumers to a tie score on the grounds of the Harmarville club last night, the Charleroi Independents opened the season here with the C. M. C. club of Homestead Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock imbued with confidence that they can beat the team that lowered the colors of Jeannette when Jeannette opened the season on their grounds recently.

Beatty will probably pitch, with Latriam in reserve, and the entire club is appearing in Harmarville last night in the field.

Owing to the fine showing that Charleroi made against the crack Harmarville club, prospects augur for a big crowd at the opener here Friday.

PINCHOT BELIEVES HE IS DUE FOR COMEBACK: TO MEET BOYS IN CLASS

The sporting editor of the Pittsburgh Sun has the following about a Charleroi favorite:

"Eddie Pinchot of Charleroi is convinced after his good showing in McKeesport recently that he is due for a big comeback, and he is planning a busy campaign against the best boys in his class. He has placed himself under the management of Sammy Ventura of Monessen, and the latter is out to arrange a string of bouts for him. He says he is willing to match Pinchot against any boy who can weigh 125 to 130 pounds and would like to hear from promoters in this and other districts. Ventura may be addressed at 46 Donner avenue, Monessen, Pa., or reached by Bell phone Monessen 219-17."

Breeding Snakes.

The breeding of snakes has become a recognized industry. The skin of the snake is used in making many leather novelties, while the fat of the snake's carcass yields an oil which is valued in the treatment of muscular rheumatism. Even for the snake's venom there is a market, since it has a ready sale among physicians and chemists.

Business Before Sentiment.

"Darling," exclaimed the happy husband after the minister had pronounced the fatal words, "I am not worthy of you." "Of course you are not," she replied; "but after a girl has celebrated her twenty-fifth birthday for five consecutive years she can't afford to be too particular."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Hudson Victim of Mutineers.

The first navigators who sailed on voyages of discovery to the new world had no easy task to control the adventurous crews who manned their vessels, says the Detroit News. The troubles that Columbus had to face are well known. Magellan was called upon to put down mutiny among his crew and rebellion among his officers. But to Henry Hudson, discoverer of the river that bears his name, fell the sad fate of being overpowered by mutineers and sent to certain doom at sea. The year following his discovery of Hudson bay and Hudson strait, his crew rebelled and, seizing Hudson and eight others, bound them and set them adrift in a small boat on Hudson bay, June 23, 1611. They were never heard from again.

Indian Infant Death Rate.

The infant death rate among prehistoric American Indians was high, M. W. Sterling, ethnologist of the United States National museum, concludes from his recent exploration of ancient town sites discovered by him near Mohrville, S. D. About three baby skeletons were found to every adult skeleton discovered. An almost complete number of an eight-month-old child was among the finds. The body had been accidentally mummified through the action of copper salts. Copper ornaments buried with the baby to accompany it into the next world. Mr. Sterling explained, had served to preserve its body in this world. An adult body, similarly preserved, was also found.

Oh, Such a Name!

Several species of sea urchins occur on our Atlantic coast, says Nature Magazine. The commonest species from New Jersey northward rejoices in one of the longest of all zoological names—Strongylocentrotus drohbachensis. The sea urchins feed on vegetable matter and seaweed, which they scrape from the rocks with the sharp teeth of their remarkable dentary apparatus.

Skyscrapers in London Possible.

English architects favor six stories as the usual height for buildings in London and recently the planning of one nine stories high created considerable talk. There is quite a movement on in the British metropolis favoring higher buildings to relieve congestion, but the innovation is being fought in some quarters.

New Diving Apparatus.

Rabbit Famines.

The biological survey says that the statement that there is a scarcity of rabbits every nine years is more or less true. Rabbits become very numerous.

this does not occur regularly every nine years. It is thought that this is caused by some disease spreading among the rabbits.

Watching Church Dozers.

One of the queerest wills on record was left in 1725 by John Ridge of Tisbury, Staffordshire, England. It bequeathed the sum of 20 shillings a year to a poor man to go "about the parish church during the sermon to keep people awake and to keep dogs out of the church."

CIRCUS WEATHER AND SPARKS' SHOW HERE SATURDAY

Any woman who really wants to preserve her youthful looks without resorting to artificial measures can do so, according to Adele Nelson, a famous acrobat, who will be seen here with Sparks' Circus on Saturday, May 10.

A woman is said to be as old as she looks. Most women try in one way or another to conceal their age. This is particularly true of the professional woman. But not so Mrs. Nelson, who looks to be not a day over twenty-five, yet glories in the fact that she is the mother of two full-grown sons.

The proper kind of dieting, fresh air, proper kind of exercise, right-living, declared Mrs. Nelson, will bring perfect health and youthful looks to any woman who follows their simple rules.

"I eat anything I want to, but simple foods are the best," states Mrs. Nelson, "and I usually stick to them. But whatever I eat I eat sparingly of it and never eat unless I am hungry. It is also good to fast occasionally."

"As for exercises, I advise the men to go to the Y. M. C. A. and the women to go to the Y. W. C. A., where they have competent instructors and classes for all ages."

The men in the picture with Mrs. Nelson are her sons. The act of the Nelson group of acrobats is said to be one of the best ever presented to the public. Besides the Nelsons, there are over twenty stellar acrobats with the Sparks Circus.

On Circus Day seats may be bought at Nights Book Store for the same price as at the show grounds. Children under twelve years of age will be admitted for thirty cents.

Dice Games Ancient.

No one can say positively when dice were invented. Credit for the invention is usually given to Psalmides of Greece (1244 B. C.). Games played with dice are the simplest and most universal games of chance in the world.

PEOPLE WANT WATER IN HOMES

on Saturday nights. On circus day, Saturday, three new minions will amplify the regular force. Councilman Thomas B. Tamm was named to succeed J. Bryant Tussing as a member of the police committee.

Council will advertise for bids for the paving of Lookout avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, the same to be opened at its regular session on Tuesday evening, June 3.

Several ladies and gentlemen were present. One lady said that there is too much dust in Shady avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and the proposition of using oil to allay the same was discussed. The matter was referred to the street committee to give the residents needed relief.

In the matter of a needed sewer between Shady and Meadow avenues, where a house is being erected, the proposition was referred to the street committee.

Ladies were present in the matter of having water put in their residences in Lincoln Avenue extension. There are nine houses that need water. The proposition was taken up recently by the fire, light and water committee of council, who conferred with the Tri-Cities Water Company, the company inditing a letter in which it said that the revenue to be accrued would not commensurate it for the expense of extending its lines; the cost it claims would be $4,000.

The lady who spoke in behalf of the people desirous of the water—claim it as their due as taxpayers, submitted a counter proposition to council, stating the company could run its lines out Maple avenue and down the hill. The committee of council agreed to take up this solution of the matter with the water company.

Council voted to give the chief of police a private party telephone line in his home.

HUSBAND ARRIVES IN TIME TO THWART VILLAIN

Returning to his home in 244 Leawee avenue, Monessen yesterday at noon, John Knuka found Wasi Huntynak in his home attempting to assault his wife after he had bound and gagged her. According to the story told by Knuka, infuriated by Huntynak's actions, he grabbed up the first thing he could lay his hands on, which happened to be a flat iron and struck the man time and time again on the head, rendering Huntynak unconscious. Believing the man dead, Knuka notified the police who took the victim to a physician's office where his head, a mass of cuts and bruises, was given medical attention. Fifteen stitches were required to close the numerous wounds on the man's scalp.

Mr. and Mrs. Knuka claim that Huntynak forced himself into their home and after binding and gagging Mrs. Knuka attempted to assault her. Although bound and gagged, Mrs. Knuka stated that she fought her opponent until the timely arrival of her husband. Knuka was placed under arrest, but has been released on bail, pending the condition of Huntynak.

Monitor and Merrimac.

On May 15, 1862, in company with the Galena, the Naugatuck, Port Royal, and Aristoook, the Monitor participated in an unsuccessful attempt to capture Richmond, and on December 31, 1862, while en route to Beaufort, N. C., she foundered in stormy weather off Hatteras, four officers and seventeen men being drowned. The Merrimac was destroyed when the Norfolk yard was evacuated by the Confederates.

Materials in Straw Hats

In the United States straw hats are made from braid that is chiefly imported from Italy, China and Japan, says the Detroit News. Of the various materials which go into the fabrication of plaited hatter the most important is wheat straw. The straw must have a length of "pipe" between the knots and must possess a clear, delicate golden color and must not be brittle. The most valuable straw is from Tuscany, and from the Tuscan plait the leghorn hats are made. Many substances besides straw are used in braids for hats and bonnets. Among these may be noted palm, raffia, and even as well as palm.

The famous panama hats are made from the leaves of the screw pine.

When Medals Were Unknown. From the fall of the Roman empire until the beginning of the fifteenth century medals were almost unknown.

When Lotteries Were Lawful

In the eighteenth century lotteries were extremely popular in America. Legislatures authorized them for every species of public improvement, for the building of churches and colleges, for the repair of losses to individuals by fire and otherwise; for example, Faneuil hall, after the fire of 1770, was rebuilt by lottery. The continental congress tried to raise money by lottery in 1777.

Lives in the Mud

Some fish are very particular in regard to the purity of the water in which they live, says Nature Magazine, but not so the catfish, for it will live and thrive in the muddiest and most stagnant waters. If the air supply of water becomes insufficient it will rise to the surface and take in air through the mouth.

Ram's Horns Curved

The "Big Horn" is a stocky, sturdy animal, surprisingly agile in spite of its weight, says Nature Magazine. An average size ram will turn the scales at 250 pounds, while an occasional specimen will weigh 350. Both male and female have horns, those of the ram being gracefully curved.

Ingratitude

All men detest ingratitude, as being an injury done to themselves, by ingratitude, and the ingrate they look upon as the common enemy of the poor.

Vine and Fig Tree

Possession of one's "own vine and fig tree" is archaic. Own vine and fig tree and bathroom is the sine qua non of modern life.

South African Women Wear Smart Millinery

An interesting word picture of millinery modes in South Africa is given in a bulletin of the Retail Millinery Association of America by Miss Amy Adams. Among other things, she tells of the use of ostrich feathers by South African women, some of these plumes running nearly a yard in length. "Milliners in Cape Town and Kimberley make most attractive displays," she writes. "They also take the greatest possible pains to suit the features of their clientele, and build the hats accordingly. No one seems to wear a home-made hat, as there is no attempt to instruct the amateur to make her own chapeaux. The result is that the 'tout ensemble' of an afternoon gathering is surprisingly smart."

"Shapes are identical under the shadow of Table Mountain with those worn in New York, but they seem more lightly wired and of a softer buckram. Just now, in the height of their summer, very light colors are in vogue. These are usually faced with dark silk, or even velvet, which serves to give a little shade in the glaring sunshine."

"The South Africans believe in supporting home industries, so that really magnificent ostrich plumes, at least 34 inches long, adorn the more 'dressy' hats. They circle the crown completely and drop down the right side. Each hat is made of a single piece of material and the long blades sewed or arranged by a master hand. No apprentice can manage them. With specially designed hats nothing can achieve more flattery than the white plumage which is so popular. Horse-hair or very light-weight straw is the material of their foundation."

Is cigarette taste changing?

On May 2nd we sent this telegram to every one of our salesmen throughout the country.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

Note—If you have not read the telegram above, please glance through it.

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the cigarette business—yes.

But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps—might open any man's eyes.

The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happening.

He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched"—quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it.

But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening?

The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course; but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobaccos, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfields—if you give them the chance—will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity must be deserved

DWINDLING OIL SUPPLIES.

With scientific forecasts to back him, President Coolidge has issued a warning that this country cannot count on a sufficiency of mineral oil supplies for more than twenty years. In spite of such a prospect the Navy Department is replacing coal burners with oil burners and there is a bill before Congress appropriating $55,000,000 to refit more than 60 of the Shipping Board steamers as oil burners. More serious still, the country is adding an enormous number of automobiles every year. Naturally there is inquiry, not only among alarmists but among sober observers, as to what we are going to do when the oil supplies are exhausted. From pioneer days until now we have never given much thought to the principle of conservation. We have used the country's riches as prodigally as if we expected them to last forever, leaving posterity to take care of itself.

And doubtless posterity will take care of itself, as it has done heretofore. It may be that new sources of supply will be found or new methods invented, and possibly the known supply of oil itself will hold out longer than is expected. That was the story of coal in England, and new veins are not infrequently uncovered in this country. The United States has been pretty well prospected and new oil wells may be infrequent hereafter, but new finds are often reported in other parts of the world. The earth's oil supply may be sufficient for many years to come, but in any case advancing costs may be counted on, particularly when the larger part of the supply will have to be imported.

Glass Bottom Ocean Ships Next.
A type of glass-bottom ship that will probably be used in regular ocean-going service, has been perfected by a sea-going pilot. In the bottom of this new ship is a heavy glass window through which a searchlight is thrown on the bed of the ocean. By calculating the angle of the searchlight rays the depth of the ocean can be determined and shoals thus avoided when running through fog or shallow water.
The glass window is protected by a valve, also, to avoid flooding should the glass be broken.

None of the mammals, birds or rep-species of insects and fish thus en-best known of the "living batteries."

It inhabits the rivers and lakes of Brazil and the Guianas. It sometimes attains a length of eight feet with a girth equal to that of a man's thigh.
The electric organs are situated in the tail, and are composed of numerous cells containing a jelly-like substance.

Dumb Animals and Color.

Scientists differ in their opinions as to whether dumb animals see color.
Experiments have been performed with monkeys, chickens, rabbits and rats. In some instances, where the animals apparently responded more readily to one color than to another, it was thought possible that they were affected more by the differences in the intensity of the colors than by the different colors. Latest results indicate that animals do not readily detect color differences.

The Sans-Culottes.

The name Sans-Culottes was given by the aristocrats at the beginning of the French revolution to the democratic party in Paris, because they gave up wearing knee-breeches in favor of trousers, or pantaloons, instead. The term was first applied in contempt; but was afterwards adopted as synonymous with "good patriots" by the popular party.

Still Protested.

One of a party of men left his seat in an already crowded train to go in search of something to eat, leaving a rug to reserve his place. On returning he found that, in spite of the rug and the protests of fellow-passengers, the seat had been usurped by a woman. With flashing eyes she turned upon him: "Do you know, sir, that I am one of the directors' wives?"
"Madam," he replied, "were you the director's only wife I should still protest."

Not to Be Trusted.

A hired man left a farm near Ypsilanti, Mich., taking a horse, a buggy, 15 chickens, 20 jars of canned fruit, one raincoat, one pair of rubber boots, five bushels of potatoes, one-half bushel of onions, two shirts, one pair of pants, one revolver, 15 gunny sacks, one pair of shoes, one phonograph and 30 records. In addition, the owner intimates, this hired man is not a fellow who can be trusted.

Isle of Pines.

The Isle of Pines, south of Cuba, gets its name from its foresty of pine,
which exist there at a lower altitude than anywhere else in the tropics. The island is almost a quarter the size of Porto Rico, and has a resident population of about 7,000. The thermometer seldom registers higher than 80 degrees or lower than 60 degrees.

Health Talk No. 8.

WHAT IS DIS-EASE?

DIS-EASE IS A CONDITION. We speak of "catching cold." We never "catch" or "take" anything. Dis-ease is a minus not a plus quantity, and when any organ or system is infected it is due to a minus or excess of function.

So long as the various systems of the body are in perfect harmony, one with the other, no harm comes of the invasion of hostile germs; but should the lungs, for instance, become de-vitalized through excess or lack of nerve force, then the invading germs find a lodgment in the lung tissue and dis-ease manifests itself. Unless a sufficient reserve force can be called upon, the invaders assume control with greater or less rapidity, and death ensues.

To prevent dis-ease, all the nerves of the body, both motor and sensory, must be kept in perfect condition, so that the vital force may be transmitted normally. Interruption of the flow of vitalizing energy between the brain and the tissues, over the nerves, means disorder, incoordination, and dis-ease.

The Chiropractor removes obstructions and promotes a normal flow of energy and this insures HEALTH.

Gentle Reminder.

The headie was in the habit of showing visitors over the remains of the abbey in the parish. On one occasion he had done so for a lady, who on leaving him in the churchyard, offered him only barren thanks. As she went through the gate the wily man remarked: "Well, ma'am, if you find you're lost your purse when you get home, remember you didn't have it out here."

INVESTIGATE AN ACCIDENT WHERE EIGHT KILLED

Amsterdam, N. Y., May 7.—Officials of the New York Central are investigating the accident in which the Twentieth Century Limited, west-bound, struck a motor car here last night, killing eight persons.

John M. Cee, Amsterdam clothing merchant, his wife, three children, Mrs. John Karan, and daughter, and David Spirano were killed.

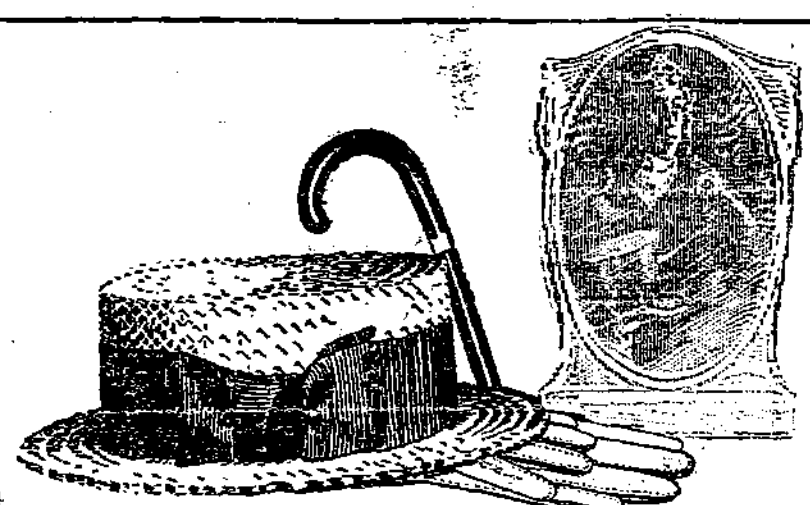

There were no witnesses to the accident, and officials of the railroad are unable to understand how the driver of the motor car failed to see the approaching train. The train was headed for Chicago.

GIRL FALLS 35 FEET; CONDITION SERIOUS

Nellie Frantzitz, aged 15, while cleaning off the wash line prepared to decide very soon what to do to hanging out clothes on the roof of a third story building in Schoonmaker avenue, Monessen, yesterday morning, lost her balance and fell over the side to the ground 35 feet below, landing on her feet and sustaining a compound fracture of the right leg and probably internal injuries. The girl was immediately rushed to the Memorial hospital, where she spent a restless night and is in a critical condition this morning.

Nellie had secured a position as a domestic at the Schoonmaker avenue home yesterday morning, and among her first duties was to hang out the clothes on the roof of the building. While cleaning the line near the edge of the building, the rope broke and the girl unable to balance herself went over the side of the building. Her screams brought many to her aid and she was taken to the hospital immediately.

Mr. Coolidge and Hughes are expected to decide very soon what to do to hanging out clothes on the course is to be followed, following in decision of the conferees to make Japanese exclusion effective July 1, 1926, and thus overriding the president's proposal to extend this date to March 1, 1926.

The plan was to have given Secretary Hughes and the Japanese government sufficient time to negotiate a new treaty barring Japanese from the United States. Japan is anxious to avoid a law on this subject.

The following courses were discussed by observers here today as possibilities:

- 1—Hughes to make an eleventh hour effort to negotiate a treaty with Japan for it to be approved by the Senate before expected adjournment early in June. This seems virtually impossible. Hughes also might go ahead with the negotiation of a treaty which would replace the impending law under a plan for the president to submit it for the approval of the Senate when Congress meets again next December.
- 2—The administration to do nothing and simply accept the present situation.
- 3—Hughes to counsel President Coolidge to veto the exclusion bill when it reaches the White House, which, however, might prove to be futile in view of the virtual certainty that Congress would repeat what already has been done.

BANNING QUESTION

IS REAL SERIOUS

Washington, May 7. — With the Japanese immigration question more serious with each development, President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes today were confronted with the rejection by the Senate and House conferees of the president's compromise plan to soften the exclusion blow to Japan.

Finally there is the remote possibility that Hughes might resign as secretary of state because of repudiation by Congress of his position on the Japanese question. At least up to the present development, however, it can be stated authoritatively that Hughes has had no intention of resigning, taking the view that he is not responsible for the action of Congress.

Deserved Tribute to Dog.

Tribute to a dog's bravery was paid by the owner in an obituary notice published recently in an English paper, which stated: "Died, at Torquay, Tom, dear dog, a blue Dane. He saved the life of his owner twice during the war. He jumped over the high bank into a canal and saved a child without being told to do so. He was the noble, gentle companion and friend of his owner during nine years, and she mourns him."
